

Free at Last Ministry to Women $25,000

By God's grace through the work of the Holy Spirit, Rev. Afam Ikanih's prison ministry is bearing amazing fruit. Through the Free at Last Ministry, he reaches out to the formerly incarcerated and their families as they do the difficult work of re-entering society. The needs of women in prison and out are very unique. This grant would be used to provide for a Lutheran deaconess to serve as chaplain at the House of Correction and through Free at Last ministries. Having a woman, more specifically a trained Lutheran deaconess, to oversee the ministry to women would both expand the impact of Free at Last, and free up Pastor Ikanih to do more ministry. Mission Grant Prayer

Lord Jesus, one day it will be said, "I was in prison and you visited Me". I know I will not, in person, probably visit any woman in prison. However, through our LWML grant offerings, we will help to make it possible for a Lutheran Deaconess to minister to such women during and after incarceration. I am grateful to have the opportunity to help with this difficult but God-pleasing mission. We give You thanks for all steps that lead to people's freedom, especially freedom in Christ.

Amen.
